Wildlife Group Looking for More Members

In a meeting Friday night the Hempstead Wildlife Association set up committees to draw up the constitution and to nominate permanent officers. Some 60 members were present.

Harvey Anderson, president of the Quince County Association, gave the group some organization information in an informal discussion. Jerome Duffie showed a film about duck hunting.

The group selected J. D. Boswell and Talbot Field Jr. to represent them at today's meeting in Little Rock of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission.

There are about 600 more membership cards to be issued. Any one wishing to sell membership should contact the Chamber of Commerce office. The organization has over 200 members now. The next meeting has been called for February 6.

Various Items Well Worth Reading That a Columns Learns Just Opening Mail

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

That, if you think rabbits know how to multiply, consider the fruit fly, which produces as many as 25 generations in a single year. If all the descendants of a pair of fruit flies lived and bred, in just 12 months they'd make a ball 20 million miles in diameter. So what? That fruit fly and save your world!

That Milton C. Herman, the mink furrier, says: "The only thing today's formal dresses leaves to the imagination is what's holding them up."

That some people are afraid of a smart doctor. After William Harvey published a paper early in the 17th century on his discovery of the circulation of the blood, almost all his patients deserted him, although he was still the trusted physician of two kings.

That if you need calcium here's a way to get it cheaply: save your egg shells. Dry them thoroughly, then grind them fine enough for comfortable swallowing. But don't swallow it—you might sprout teeth.

That Harold Lloyd, a big screen star, is a big screen star.

School Bomb Threat in Tennessee

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Police Chief Ed Brown said today he is investigating a report that police received a telephoned threat to blow up the Howard School would be blown up, but apparently chalked it off as work of a prankster.

The school was hit by a mysteriously set explosion early Sunday which caused an estimated $1,000 damage.

The threat, which Brown said he knew nothing about, was reported in the Chattanooga Times as being made Saturday. The newspaper said police apparently ignored the threat, regarding it as coming from a crank or prankster.

The threat was based on the appearance of a letterhead on a TV station here a short time earlier, the paper said.

Brown said the blast was caused by a homemade bomb, which possibly was constructed by placing dynamite inside a piece of metal pipe. Brown said many metal splinters were found at the scene.

Two Killed in Plane Wreck, Death Toll 19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two light planes collided over Jonesboro Municipal Airport yesterday and one craft plunged to earth, killing two men.

Seventeen other persons met violent deaths in Arkansas during the week that ended at midnight Saturday.

Fires took seven lives, traffic accidents five, shootings three, and one person died from burns and one was killed in a tractor mishap.

Victims of the air collision were Charles H. Busby, 32, a Jonesboro flight instructor, and Billy Wayne Robinson, 23, of Paragould, a student pilot.

The pilot of the other plane, Dr. R. W. Ralton, 38, a Paragould physician, managed to keep his craft aloft and made a belly landing near the airport. He was uninjured.

Ike's Economics Report Sees Inflation End

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the country can lick the economic ills of this year, pay in full the cost of meeting Russia's new challenge, and go forward to "real economic growth without inflation."

His economic report, third and last of the annual White House messages to Congress, carried a 42-point program of home-front legislation. Most requests were familiar, but Eisenhower said they are now "urgent."

He pledged that his policies will be shaped to foster the earliest possible business recovery. But he gave no hint that the administration is considering any such strong medicine as tax cuts, public works or deliberate deficits, and avoided even the words "recession" or "depression."

Eisenhower disclosed that the slump began sooner and hit harder than officials had expected. In the past three months national production dropped six billion dollars, or 1 1/2 per cent, he said, from the record rate of 430 billion a year achieved in the previous quarter.

And he underscored this warning: if "unwarranted" wage and price increases emerge from this spring's bargaining, the prospective recovery could be delayed.

The latest challenge of international communism will require a further increase in the economic claims of national security, which are already heavy, Eisenhower said.

"If we follow suitable private and public policies, this challenge can be met without distorting our economy, or destroying the freedoms that we cherish."

"Whatever our national security requires, our economy can provide and we can afford to pay."

The business-stimulating effect of enlarged defense spending already is being felt, Eisenhower reported, and the October reversal of the government's anti-inflation policy has noticeably liberalized credit and cut the costs of borrowing.

Other factors favoring a 1958 upturn are visible, he said, including:

Strong, sustained consumer demand; "very little" decline in incomes or total buying power; rising outlays by state and local governments; increased private spending on research and development; and strong business confidence, attested by the long-range programs of corporations for expansion and construction.

Summing up, Eisenhower predicted a 1958 upturn.

Calf Show, Sale Planned This Fall

A meeting was held last week in the Chamber of Commerce office for the purpose of making plans for a calf show and sale to be conducted during the Third District Livestock Show this fall. Those attending the meeting were Ray Lawrence, Chairman of the Committee to promote this event, Frank Douglas, President of the Livestock Show, Oliver Adams, County Agent, Ned Ray Purdie, Burgess Garrett and B. N. Holt.

Committees were appointed to investigate the cost of financing the purchase of, and the feeding of these calves and to determine if a sufficient number of this type calf is available at this time.

All 4H Club and F. F. A. youth interested in participating in this program are asked to contact their County Agent or Vocational Agriculture Teacher for details. This meeting dealt primarily with Hempstead County but the County Agents and Vocational Agriculture Teachers in the other Counties of the district are being asked to encourage participation by their youth. The committee hopes to have some 40 to 50 calves available for this show and sale.

Court Refuses to Enter Labor Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today refused to interfere with picketing in a Jonesboro labor dispute.

The unanimous decision affirmed the Craighead Chancery Court. McDaniel Bros. Construction Co. Contended that its labor union locals picketed for a closed shop in violation of Arkansas freedom to work laws.

The company said charges of substandard wages on signs carried by the pickets, were subterfuges.

McDaniel Bros. was constructing a building for Colson Corp.

The Supreme Court said it found no evidence to sustain a company contention that the chancellor went beyond his proper discretion in refusing to prohibit the picketing.

Would Make Use of Soviet Discoveries

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American scientist proposed today that the United States cut down waste and advance its own research by making greater use of discoveries by the Russians.

The scientist, Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, president of Associated Universities Inc., which carries on research projects, criticized what he said was inadequate government dissemination of science data. He called for a wide range of federal moves to step up the flow of important information.

While U. S. translations of Soviet science writings generally lag, he added, federal bureaus have been stamping secret on some public Russian articles. They do translate those one Soviet paper reportedly wound up being translated seven times by different groups, he said.

Berkner's prepared testimony marked the opening of a new series of hearings by the House Government Information Subcommittee on restrictions on the flow of scientific information.

Committee Chairman Moss (D-Calif.) said American scientists face the two-fold problem of "too little information on the one hand, but too much in a useless form on the other."

13,000 Signed, Many Others Want a Chance

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal government today notified Arkansas agricultural officials to resume cotton soilbank agreements "if funds are not exhausted," but state officials said there is no money left.

Clyde Liebling, state administrator of the Agricultural and Stabilization Committee, said: "The situation is at a sandhill. We need more money and we don't know what's next."

The ASC committee scheduled a meeting here today to study reports of soil bank agreements from cotton-growing counties.

Liebling said that after the meeting the committee will disclose the exact amount of funds needed to fulfill all the cotton acreage agreements signed from Jan. 31 to Jan. 10.

More than 13,000 Arkansas farmers signed agreements during that period. Another 2,000 who had made appointments were unable to sign before the processing of applications was stopped by the Department of Agriculture last Friday.

Liebling said Arkansas has been allocated a total of $12,709,200 to pay farmers who place their cotton acreage in the soil bank.

He estimated that the total amount needed for agreements signed so far would be two to

Many Things Cloud the Farm Outlook

CHICAGO (U)—The 1958 outlook is clouded by a shifting farm picture, spiraling production costs and in the farm implement industry that always unpredictable element, weather.

Still, at least two big manufacturers and a majority of the nation's tractor and farm equipment salesmen see a ray of profitable sunshine.

One of the optimistic manufacturers is Deere & Co. Its president, William A. Hewitt, predicts this year will about match the firm's sales during the comparable period of 1957. He expressed his views in the firm's annual report.

The company's net sales last year totaled $338,146,140—a 24 per cent rise over 1956. The total was second only to Deere's 1951 banner year figure of 397 million dollars.

Another economically encouraging report comes from the International Harvester Co. A spokesman said the firm's 1958 farm implement sales "should be about the same and maybe a little better than last."

The Harvester prediction is pinned to "good moisture in the principal farm areas and falling farm prices." So far, the company's 1958 tractor sales have lagged a bit but the sales volume of other farm wares is much stronger than last year, the spokesman said.

Indians Break Up Klan Meet, Charge Sought

LUMBERTON, N. C. (U)—Sheriff Malcolm McLeod says he will ask a grand jury today to indict a Ku Klux Klan leader who had his rally shot out from under him by whooping Indians.

The Robeson County law officer said he wanted charges of inciting to riot brought against the Rev. James Cole of Marion, S. C., self-styled KKK leader of groups in both Carolinas.

Cole, claiming he was denied his rights under the law because he is a member of the white race, said he planned legal action against the sheriff, also, a white man. But later, Cole said the Klan should turn the other cheek as far as further action may be considered.

"Being Christian is our job and we should turn the other cheek even when offended," he said. Cole's rally near here Saturday night ended with Klan men and spectators scrambling for safety as hooding Indians emptied rifles, shotguns and pistols into the meeting field.

The Indians were outraged by reports the Klan intended to warn them against race mixing and by the fact that two KKK crosses were burned near Indian homes during the preceding week.

Rock Hudson Strong But Not Silent

By OLGA CURTIS (Copyright, By INS)

NEW ORK (INS) — Rock Hudson, Hollywood's A-1 example of the big, strong, silent type, is certainly big and strong.

But silent? Not any more. "I talk now," Rock declaimed. "That business of my being shy and non-talkative — that's a carryover from five or six years ago. I was scared to death then. I couldn't talk to anybody. But after meeting thousands of people, I learned."

The six-foot-four movie star, posing placidly for publicity photographs, glanced at a swarm of students who were oohing and ahaing a bashful ten feet away. "Getting over shyness wasn't as tough as I thought it would be," he added. "At first I had to force myself to talk. I mean, I knew I had to so I thought, I'll just say something fast and get it over with. Then after I got through, I found myself telling myself 'that wasn't so bad.'"

"And now, I'm not shy," Rock grinned down at a youngster who suddenly appeared at his side breathing "Oh, Mr. Hudson" and laughed.

"At least I'm not as shy as I used to be!"

He looked questioningly at the teenage, who stammered "They bet me I couldn't get your autograph!"

"How much was the bet?" asked Rock, cheerfully scribbling a signature.

The girl gave a yelp of triumph and was promptly blotted from sight as a dozen other fans converged on Hudson.

He obligingly signed everything shoved at him, from cuffs to match books.

"I'm used to this," he grinned. "Glad to say it happens quite often."

Catching a signal from his photographer, Hudson edged gently toward the teenagers like a gentle whale afraid of squashing the guppies.

He posed for several more photos to advertise his new picture, "The Tornados Angels," and then plunged fearlessly back into conversation.

"You were asking me about winning this poll," resumed Rock, who was just voted the number one box-office star in Hollywood. "I feel very good about it. But it's kind of fantastic for a guy who used to carry the mail in Winnetka."

"The parts I play had something to do with it — more girls go to the movies than boys!"

Hudson paused to light a cigarette and noted:

"When I just started out, I only wanted to be an actor."

"But along with learning to meet people and talk, I got ambition. Now I want to try for Broadway in 1959. I'd rather try it as an actor, but they think they can make a singer out of me."

"I'm just a bathtub virtuoso, I don't really sing. But it's an objective — so I'm studying him."

"Singing, dancing, too. I already play a little piano and guitar."

"By the time I learn to sing, they may not want me. I've got a sea of pictures before I can try Broadway — and everybody's only as good as their last picture."

"Right now I'd like to try different types of pictures. You know I've never made a picture without a girl in it!"

Hollywood's big, strong and non-silent No. 1 star thought over his last remark and added:

"But I better keep on getting the girl!"

DOROTHY DIX

Bookkeeper Can Start Business In Own Home

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a mature woman, a capable, efficient bookkeeper. Unfortunately, I've been plagued by ill health so I never can keep a job long. I've thought of starting some sort of business in my home and would appreciate any ideas you might have on the subject. I'm thoroughly trained in bookkeeping and typing, and have a good telephone voice.

Dear Lora: Thousands of women operate successful businesses from their own homes; there's no reason why you can't jump on the bandwagon. You certainly have assets. I suggest that you send for the following Government publications: "Your Own Business" (Catalog No. C-18271-22; cost 35 cents), and "Bookkeeping and Accounting Service" (Catalog No. C-1414; cost 20 cents). Send your request with remittance in check, money order or cash (no stamps), to the U.S. Government Printing Office, Division of Public Documents, Washington 25, D.C. I'm sure these booklets will open the door to a happier and more healthful future for you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a widow in my late 80's live alone, am free to come and go as I please, have a comfortable home and a nice income. But I do get a bit lonesome at times, and am wondering if it would be worth giving up my freedom to take care of someone else. A man has proposed to me but I don't know too much about him.

Dear N. B.: No one can be more lonesome than a partner in a loveless marriage. You have things so nice now, stick to them. We all have occasional bouts of loneliness, but you have the means and ability to do something about them. Don't marry a man who may turn out to be after the comforts you can supply and nothing else.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My steady girl friend is having a birthday soon. My pal, who used to date her, is planning on giving her a gift which I don't want her to accept. I'm giving her a present and I think that should be enough. How can I tell her to refuse his gift? — CHARLIE

Dear Charlie: If your pal is giving her a small gift like a record, fine. If he's planning on something big, the girl's own good sense should dictate a refusal.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last week my girl friend persuaded me to go to a fortune teller with her. I was told that my sister would die within a year. Do you think I should put any belief in the prediction? My sister is in perfect health, but I'm becoming a nervous wreck.

Dear Pat: Instead of wasting your money put it to good use by cropping it in a March of Dimes box. Nobody can forest the future and you are a nitwit to spend money on fortune tellers or to put any faith in their predictions. If you don't believe me, consider that practically all of these seers are quite poor, surely if they had the powers they claim they could make a fortune in the stock market.

BY BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (A)—I think that if you put enough enthusiasms into anything, it eventually bears fruit, possibly in some other form, but it's never lost!

That was what Jesse Lasky wrote in his autobiography, "I Blow My Own Horn," which he was publishing just before he fell dead last week. And his words just about summed up the remarkable career of a kindly gentleman with a rare talent for enthusiasms.

Lasky's bland face, since, no glasses and friendly manner were a familiar sight in Hollywood since the town arose from the tanneries. In the last two or three decades, he also became familiar for his pet projects, which he would promote until they reached the screen.

The guy just wouldn't give up. He recalled looking out of his New York office window in 1919 to see the ticker-tape reception for Sgt. Alvin C. York, the great World War I hero who had killed 25 Germans and captured 132 more. Then the head of Famous Players—Lasky (later Paramount), the producer, offered to buy the hero's life story for film. York's reply: "My life is not for sale."

Woman Pedestrian Killed by Auto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Ida Taylor Rhyne, 72, was struck and killed by an automobile as she Rush Rhyne, state highway director yesterday.

She was the widow of James Govs. J. M. Fulrell and Carl E. for during the administrations of Govs. J. M. Fulrell and Carl E. Bailey.

A native of Corning, she was the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Felix Taylor. Survivors include a son, Dr. James T. Rhyne of Pine Bluff; a daughter, Mrs. Douglas P. Frazier, in Germany; two brothers, Robert Taylor of Little Rock and Dr. Rupert Taylor of Clemons, S. C., and seven grandchildren. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

HAS CHOICE

Utah has two methods of execution for criminals. A doomed person there may choose to die either on the gallows or before a firing squad.

Sgt. York. He flew to Nashville and motored to the Cumberland Mountains to see York. After lengthy negotiations, they made a deal. Lasky signed a $25,000 check for half-payment on the film rights, then hurried home to borrow on his life insurance to cover the check.

But Lasky faced another selling job. He couldn't interest any of the major studios in making the film. Not even Paramount, of which he was a founder and one-time boss. But Warner Brothers agreed to make the picture after hearing Lasky's argument that such a story would be a service to the nation as it prepared for war.

Lasky's next hurdle: getting Gary Cooper for the leading role. The producer went to his former brother-in-law and partner, Samuel Goldwyn, who helped Cooper's contract. Goldwyn already to loan Cooper, though the wily trader got Betty Davis in return for "The Little Foxes."

"Sergeant York" was a smash hit and won Cooper his first Oscar. Lasky's enthusiasm was finally fulfilled—only 20 years late.

Gray, Williams Most Promising New Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Gray, a third baseman who once committed five errors, almost on consecutive chances, and Stan Williams, a pitcher who one season issued 158 bases on balls, are regarded by the Los Angeles management today as the most promising of all the new Dodgers.

The 26-year-old Gray, in his sixth season of minor league ball, in 1957, had an excellent year with St. Paul, hitting .297 in 153 games. He drove in 111, third best in the American Assn., led the third baseman in putouts, assists and total chances, and was a unanimous choice for the all-star team.

Williams, only 21, has been pitching minor league ball for four seasons with Shawnee of the Soothen State League in 1954. A strapping 6'4" right-hander, he won 18 games over Newport News, striking out 301 batters in 242 innings, but he also walked 158.

After a mediocre 11-9 season in '56, Williams enjoyed his best season last year, winning 19 games at St. Paul. He led the
A. in strikeouts with 223 in 246 innings and finished second in victories and innings pitched.

The Dodgers will inspect 11 other young hopefuls, including such returnees as outfielder Don first baseman Jim Gentile and Demeter, catcher Joe Pignatano,
Norm Larker, shortstop Bob Lillis and pitchers Rene Valdez and Fred Kipp. Rookies up for the first time include second baseman George Anderson and pitchers Larry Sherry, Bill Harris and Rod Miller.

Sherry, only 22, posted a 10-10
record at Fort Worth last season.

ing story of Zacharias, Elizabeth, and their son, John the Baptist.

Application of this story was made of daily living, which served as the answer for many problems.

Compromise Between Orioles, White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—An amiable compromise was reached yesterday by the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles in the case of pitcher Jack Harshman's slipped disc.

Commissioner Ford Frick issued an ultimatum that the southwest pitcher goes to Baltimore or the six-player deal consummated last month would be called off.

That sent Vice President Chuck Comiskey of the White Sox and Baltimore Manager Paul Richards scurrying into a huddle. Both clubs admitted liking the deal so well that they wanted it to stand.

The Sox traded Harshman, outfielder Larry Doby and an unnamed player to the Orioles for pitcher Ray Moore, infielder Billy Gardner and outfielder Tito Francona.

Examinations last week confirmed Harshman has a slipped disc and the Orioles yelled "foul."
The Sox said they made the deal in good faith and did not know of the 30-year-old pitcher's condition.

He pitched a 2-1 win just before the season ended.

Highlights of the College Cage Season

By DON WEISS

The Associated Press

College basketball has come up to its annual break for mid-term examinations featured by:

1. West Virginia's emergence as the nation's leading team.

2. The Oscar Robertson - Will Chamberlain scoring duel.

3. Some of the closest and daf-fest—conference races in many a year.

There ought to be a No. 4: an apprehensive shudder among the sponsors of the post-season National Collegiate Athletic Assn.
championships.

The NCAA is delighted with point No. 1, since West Virginia, unbeaten in 13 games, appears to outclass the Southern Conference, which sends its champ into the NCAA tournament in March.

The Robertson-Chamberlain duel would be just dandy if it weren't for point 3.

Robertson, the spectacular soph-more from Cincinnati, currently leads the major scorers with a 32.43 average for 14 games. Chamberlain follows at 32.42 for 12 games.

Both may be on the outside looking in, from the NCAA's standpoint, when the championship tournament begins unless they can rally their teams in a pair of rugged conference races.

Cincinnati, stumbling while Robertson's 6-10 helper, Connie Dier-king, was injured, has reached the mid-season break in an all-out scuffle with Wichita, Bradley and St. Louis in the class-packed Missouri Valley Conference. Wichita leads with 3-0 after Saturday's 74-63 whipping of Tulsa, with Cincinnati next at 7-1 after clipping St. Louis 53-72. Bradley (6-1) and St. Louis (2-1) still have a shot at the title.

Wichita gets its big test this week, facing Bradley Thursday and Cincinnati Saturday in a pair of road games.

In the Big Eight conference, it's no more certain for Kansas which dropped a conference game to Oklahoma while Chamberlain was out with a groin injury. Including Saturday's 68-54 romp over Missouri as Will scored 35, their 2-1 record places them no better than third in the conference behind Iowa State and Kansas State, both 2-0.

dicted.
As we look ahead in 1958, there are grounds for expecting that the decline in business activity need not be prolonged and that economic growth can be resumed without extended intervention.
Other official sources more explicit than the president, said the downturn is expected to continue until a turnaround point is reached in the April-June quarter or the July-September period.

The message repeated with emphasis the administration's requests for a higher limit on the federal debt, a one-year extension of present corporation and excise tax rates, the farm program sent to the Capitol last week, and the new plan to aid science education. The president urged enactment of Taft-Hartley Law amendments including a tightening of restraints on secondary boycotts and picketing—subject of a special message due later this week—and adoption of previously announced proposals to further loosen housing credit.

Other proposals—Most of which were made in the earlier State of the Union and Budget messages—would:

Ease the tax laws in several minor ways to benefit small business. (But any tax concessions involving substantial loss of revenue must wait until a general tax cut is possible, Eisenhower said.)

Make the Small Business Administration a permanent agency and enlarge its authorization to make business and disaster loans.

Extend the $1-an-hour minimum wage to some additional groups of workers, as provided in a pending measure.

Set up federal machinery to help cities with chronic unemployment problems.

Require large companies to notify the government before merging and otherwise tighten the anti-trust laws.

Extend the Trade Agreements Act for five years, authorize further reciprocal tariff cuts, and permit the United States to enter the proposed Organization for Trade Cooperation.

Eisenhower emphasized that 1957 was a whole not only was a prosperous year but a record-breaking one in most respects. The autumn downturn, though sudden and substantial, left business activity at high levels, he said, adding:

Over 65 million people were employed, 300,000 more than in 1956.

The nation's output of goods and services totaled $34 billion dollars, and personal income was $43 billion. Both were 5 per cent larger than in the preceding year.

Eisenhower conceded that "a considerable part of these increases reflected higher prices."

Here the President turned to a problem that provided a recurring theme for the report: the hazard that wage negotiations may produce high settlements translated quickly into inflationary price increases, and that these in turn may discourage consumer buying and impede economic progress.

"Business managements must recognize that price increases that are unwarranted by costs... not only lower the buying power of the dollar but also may be self-defeating by causing a restriction of markets, lower output, and a narrowing of return on capital investment."

The leadership of labor must recognize that wage increases that go beyond overall productivity gains are inconsistent with stable prices, and that the resumption of economic growth can be slowed by wage increases that involve either higher prices or a narrowing of the margin between prices and costs.

Eisenhower added: "Freedom, being the margin between prices and costs."

Witnesses told investigating officers that the plane carrying Busby and Robinson dropped to earth seconds after the collision and struck nose first. The plane apparently was coming in for a landing at the same time and were some 250 feet above the airport when the collision occurred, officers said.

Busby is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter. Robinson's survivors include his widow and a son.

A 72-year-old widow was injured fatally last night when an automobile struck her as she crossed a street in front of her home at Little Rock.

The victim was Mrs. J. R. Rhyne. Her husband was a one-time Arkansas highway director. Officers identified the driver as Jerry D. Brown, 20, of Little Rock.

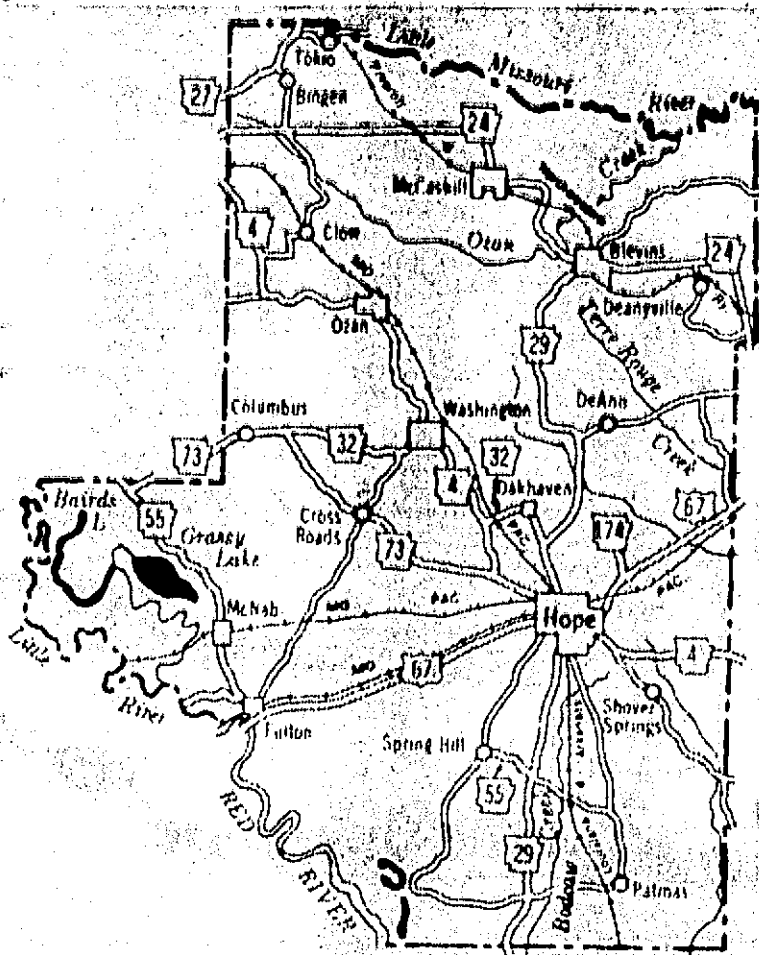

Melvin Armstead, 20, of Marked Tree died in a Memphis hospital yesterday of burns suffered a week before when a can of tractor fuel exploded in his hands.

The boy son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Armstead, was pouring some of the fuel into a woodburning stove in the family home. Mrs. Armstead and another of her children also were burned in the explosion. Their conditions are satisfactory.

Two girls were born to Mrs. Armstead last Wednesday while she was hospitalized for treatment of burns.

The boys are John Danley, a 50-pounder, and a 45-pounder, both of whom

This is a map of Hempstead county, the outline of which will be used in the newspaper's new masthead, with the legend, "Home county of the Bowie Knife."

Exports Rise Depends on Foreign Goods

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Reporting record U. S. exports in 1957, President Eisenhower said today a further rise depends on opening American markets more to foreign goods.

The President disclosed in his annual economic report to Congress that exports soared last year to a $26,300,000,000 total—$2,800,000,000 higher than the previous record set in 1956.

The new export record did not include an estimated $1,800,000,000 worth of weapons.

Eisenhower cited the export figures as a powerful reason why the government should continue to promote two-way trade among free nations.

United States imports also set a record—$20,000,000,000—during the year.

The margin of exports over imports in 1957, Eisenhower said, was $3,700,000,000.

Big increases in shipments of American Petroleum, cotton and wheat helped swell the volume of exports last year. The shutdown of the Suez Canal accounted for the oil increase, whereas blizzards and wheat deliveries were needed for development programs and because of poor harvests in Europe.

Eisenhower said that as 1957 ended, U. S. exports had dipped to a rate markedly lower than the record level. Foreign demand for American products was dropping off, he said, partly because of world business conditions.

Despite this, the President said possibility for further advance remains great provided all governments, and especially the United States, pursue enlightened trade policies.

Quakes Shatter South America

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Landslides, earthquakes and snow have left a trail of death, destruction and discomfort in parts of Latin America.

Peru was hardest hit. Reports, some of them delayed, said at least 128 persons perished in two landslides and recurrent quakes. Earth shocks also claimed 12 lives in Ecuador and spread panic in northern Chile.

Some 300 persons were reported trapped near Mexico City following one of the worst snowfalls in northern Chile.

Authorities said the tractor apparently became stuck in a ditch and overturned as Dingley was attempting to free it. Apparently he died Saturday.

A Negro man identified as Roy Phillips, about 60, died in a fire that razed his home at Little Rock Saturday night. He lived alone.

James Lee Williams, a Negro woman about 30, died Saturday night after a shotgun was fired in the living room of a North Little Rock house.

Freddy Lee Banks, also about 30, was wounded by the same blast and was in satisfactory condition today at a Little Rock hospital.

Police held Martin Peoples, about 35, Negro, of North Little Rock on an open charge in connection with the shooting.

A 17-year-old youth was shot fatally in a field near Crossett High School seniors played with a .22 caliber pistol they believed to be empty.

three million dollars above the government allocation.

The state ASC committee has authority to make county allocations.

Liebling said the Department of Agriculture has notified him that "instructions will be furnished you soon concerning procedure if the method of allocation used does not cover all agreements signed through Jan. 16 in some counties."

Cotton farmers last week rushed into county ASC offices to sign soil bank agreements when the application period began. Apparently they feared another bad year for cotton. Floods and the early freeze cut production in Arkansas last year.

The number of farmers who signed or made appointments in the first four days was nearly as many as the total who signed in a 5-week period last year.

This year, however, the federal government handled the allocation funds differently.

Liebling said more than 20 million dollars was set aside in 1957 and little more than 10 million was used by farmers in the soil bank.

This year the government did not reveal the allocation until last Thursday, when the allocation already had been exceeded in the heavy run.

For farmers who neither signed soil bank agreements nor made appointments to do so—and Liebling estimated there might be thousands—the future was completely uncertain. There was no indication today on what, if anything, the Department of Agriculture plans for them.

Dr. Fuchs, Team Reach South Pole

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Dr. Vivian Fuchs and his British ground team reached the South Pole today and announced they firmly intend to press on to the other side of Antarctica.

Tough and fit despite their grueling 57-day trek across more than 800 miles of snow and ice, the British explorer said he would go on as planned to Scott Base, on McMurdo Sound, for the first overland crossing of the continent. But he added that he had no idea when he would reach the end of his journey.

Rear Adm. George Durek, U. S. chief of Operation Deep Freeze, and Sir Edmund Hillary, who reached the Pole overland 10 days earlier, were on hand to greet the 12 Britons who had brought their tractor team over 940 miles of terrain no man had set foot on before.

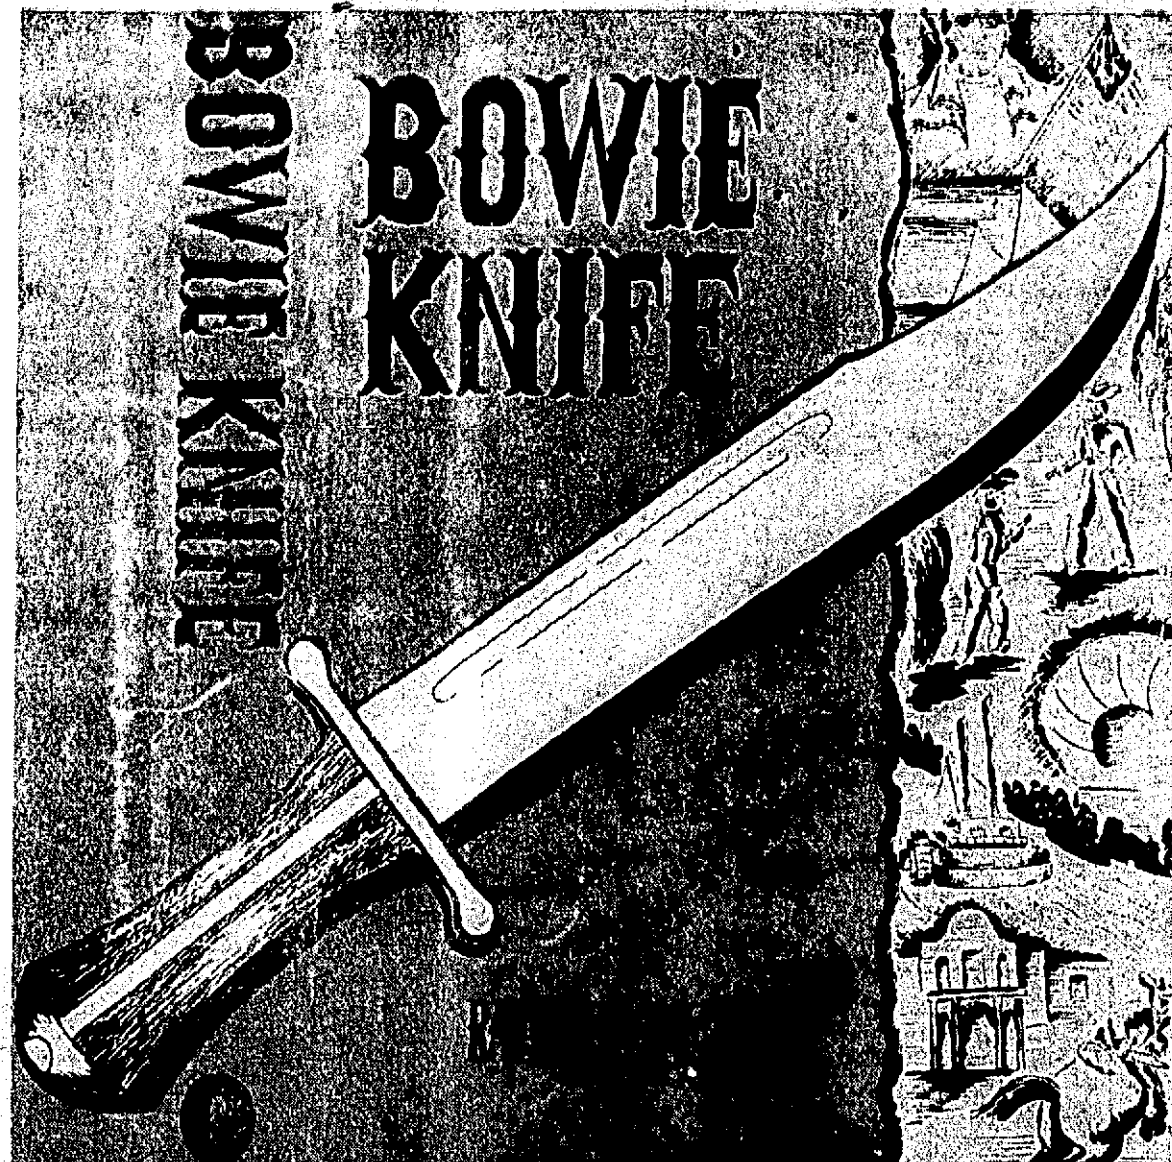

Hillary and some other experts had advised Fuchs against making the 1,200-mile second leg of the trip because they believe bad weather is in the offing.

in Mexican history.

Word reached Lima that a land slide which buried the Andean mountain hamlet of Pacheco last Monday killed at least 100 persons.

Another quake in Arequipa in southwest Peru the same day killed 28.

Earth tremors shook Chile's capital, Santiago, last night. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

For the first time in the present ownership (20 years old this week-end) Hope Star is preparing to change its masthead—the newspaper name-plate on Page One.

The present masthead was outlined and turned into a professional drawing by the commercial art department of NEA Service, Inc., the newspaper's feature syndicate in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1939. It is obsolete today, since it features the old "Broadway of America" shortly to be replaced by the Military Highway System.

On this page today appear the components which will be worked into a commercial sketch, and finally the finished stainless steel plate which goes into the printing form—of Hope Star's new masthead, a matter still several months away.

The basic idea is an outline of Hempstead county crossed diagonally by a bowie knife, with the legend "Home County of the Bowie Knife."

James Bowie is claimed by both Louisiana and Texas—but the famous knife with which he carved out an empire in the Southwest belongs exclusively to Arkansas, and particularly to Washington in our own Hempstead county.

The picture above is a photo-copy of the Star made of the jacket of the historical work, "Bowie Knife," by Raymond W. Thorp, The University of New Mexico Press (1948), $3. Mr. Thorp documents the fact that James Bowie brought his designs for a fighting knife to the blacksmith shop of James Black in Washington—who perfected the design and created the finished knives for the great frontiersmen. The same facts are incorporated in Paul I. Wellman's novel, "The Iron Mistress," which became a celebrated motion picture.

This is a locally-owned knife tracing back three generations and believed to be a genuine bowie-knife from the forge of James Black. Compare it to the design on the book-jacket in top picture.

The local knife was bought by

E. W. Edwards, for his Hope collection of antique weapons, from a local family which owned it for three generations.

It is hand-made, with hot-punched rivets holding the handle—a characteristic of the pre-Civil war era when steel drills were virtually unknown.

Supporting the genuineness of this bowie knife is the further fact that it was from a collection which included a cap-and-ball Colt .36 Caliber Navy model revolver 1851 vintage.

Cub Scout Den 6 Meets

The weekly meeting of the Cub Scout Den 6 was held on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Den Mother Mrs. P. A. Escobar with Mrs. Earl Menser assisting. After the Cub Scout Program, the boys formed a living circle and repeated the Cub Scout Promise. Their achievement for the afternoon was making lion badges and telling stories they had read. Games were played and the meeting closed with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

The meeting opened with the reading of the Law of the Pack. The theme for the month is "Be a Good Scout."

Race Rumors Plague Central High School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Little Rock's Central High School entered its second integrated semester today with tension mounting as result of rumors and minor racial incidents.

A rumor sent two truckloads of federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen racing to the school last Thursday night to search for what turned out to be a non-existent bomb.

Rumors circulated Sunday night that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was planning to put more Negroes in Central high to start the second semester.

Another rumor had the segregationist Mother's League of Central High School planning a march of protest at the school.

The nine Negroes now attending Central have learned, in some degree, to live with rumors and incidents. So has the rest of the school.

Integrationists blame segregation groups for what has been called a "deterioration of orderliness" at the school in the past few weeks.

Last week, the Arkansas Gazette charged editorially that the rumors and Thursday's bomb scare were the work of those who want conditions stirred up so that troops will have to be left at Central. But many segregationists say they don't believe this is necessary to keep the troops there.

"This thing is much bigger than some people believe," said Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the Mother's League. "People are excited enough that we certainly don't need anything to stir us up."

Two Pilots Die in Crash at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (UP)—A flying instructor and his student pilot were killed in an accident involving two light planes at the municipal airport here Sunday.

Police identified the dead as Charles Henry Busby of Jonesboro and Billy Wayne Robinson, the student-pilot, a Paragould. The pilot of the other plane, a Beechcraft Bonanza, was Dr. R. W. Hutton of Paragould. He escaped injury.

Witnesses said both planes were practicing landings when Dr. Hutton's craft rammed the Cessna 120 carrying the other two men at about 250 feet altitude. The Cessna fell to the runway instantly. Dr. Hutton's plane glided crazily about a half-mile before it managed to make a belly landing.

Neither craft burned but the Cessna was described as "completely ripped apart."

The doctor said his plane "began wanting to dive" after he struck the other plane "and I started going down."

The doctor crash-landed his plane, rushed out of the wrecked fuselage and ran to the other plane, where he tried to give medical aid to the occupants. They were dead.

Marlin Becker of the Jonesboro Flying Service, said Busby was an experienced pilot who had flown more than 12 years. Becker said Busby was a former crop duster and presently was an instructor and charter pilot for the Mother's League.

Ironically, it was Busby who flew in a heart specialist from Memphis only last Wednesday in a vain attempt to save the life of a Jonesboro physician, Dr. R. C. Hopper, who collapsed while performing an operation at St. Bernard's hospital, died several hours later.

The health lien is believed to be extinct, none have been seen alive since 1932.

Deputy Sheriff J. E. Paccitt identified the remaining victim, also Negroes, as William Jones, Ezell Jones and Kaiser Walker, farm hands; and two children, Charles Walker and Shirley Woods.
